

$58,000 Dropped In City Revenue

Not Enough Architects To Undertake Other Work

The city architect and building inspector's department yielded $58,000 last year.

This was apparent Tuesday when City Comptroller Fred Ockenden released tentative 1950 budgets for the department, together with those of the land, legal and commissions departments.

Separate School Staffs Seeking Salary Increase

BRONCHIAL TROUBLE WORRY FOR MAYORS

Stories in The Bulletin about former mayor Harry Ainlay's life in retirement were a revelation to Mayor Sid Parsons.

"I didn't know Harry was subjected to bronchitis every winter in Edmonton," said Mayor Parsons. "It must be an occupational disease."

Mayor Parsons is just out of hospital after prolonged treatment for a bronchial condition.

ERRING BROTHERS

High Average Hit For Alcohol Cure

This is another in a series of articles on Alcoholics Anonymous by a member of AA for The Bulletin.

What about the erring brother in Alcoholics Anonymous?

Consistently since the foundation of Alcoholics Anonymous in mid-1930s, the group says these averages have held:

Fifty per cent of those who enter voluntarily, and with no psychotic complications, cease and desist from drinking ten to twelve months.

Another 25 per cent have some trouble before they achieve sobriety, the group observes.

At first the group thought the other 25 per cent was lost, but as the years have gone on, the AA's have changed their mind about this 25 per cent.

"They come back," the AA's say. "They live."

Here's the story of a man who "kicked it around for eight months."

"I came into AA through the conviction of my wife and a friend. I wasn't having much fun with my drinking, but nothing better occurred to me."

"First meeting I went to I heard a couple of speakers tell stories that set my mind remaining half-bolt upright."

"I went along sober for a couple of weeks, then one day my wife snapped at me about something."

"I thought I'd show her. The taxi driver helped me into the house at 4 o'clock in the morning."

"I had more trouble quitting this time, so I thought maybe I'd better pay a little more attention to AA."

"They told me about the 12 steps. The first asks you to admit you were powerless over alcohol, that your life was unmanageable. I could take that, with not too much reservation."

"Then there's the stuff about 'making a higher power can help you, that you turn your will over to God as you understand him.' I decided to skip that. All I wanted to do was to handle my drinking. I wasn't for becoming a Bible thumper."

"I walked out of the meeting early. Later I'm talking to another old timer and I complain of this fellow's treatment and I said, 'I have a good mind to quit AA.'"

"So then he went to work on me. He pointed out that the 12 steps aren't all in the past tense—that they were any day dreams but a hard and cold record of how AA's got dry. They're just like a road map, he said."

"I tried praying. I was pretty self-conscious about it. I tried doing the right thing. I finally got up enough courage to tell my story to this same AA."

"I made some progress. I began to get a little cocky, and then boom! I was drunk again. I don't quite know what happened. That was the last time."

"I picked up the pieces and started over. That last time I felt really cherty. I smack myself now. I'm not going to take any chances."

Education Aid Asked By Institute

District Taxes Become Burden In Some Areas

RED DEER, March 14.—At least 50 percent of the cost of elementary and junior high school education should be paid by the provincial government, it was stated in a resolution passed by 300 women attending the District No. Three conference of the Alberta Women's Institutes in Red Deer Saturday.

The province was asked to increase its share of education because costs have increased greatly since re-organization of schools and districts, and with setting up new routes and dormitories.

Members suggested local taxation was burdensome in municipalities and special areas, as a result.

Another resolution asked the Canadian Association of Consumers to take measures to have jar tops standardized in size.

Jars now used for peanut butter and other spreads have come in assorted sizes and cannot be used a second time, it was stated.

Another resolution asked the women present also stated a preference to screw top rather than new with clamp-on lids.

Saskatoon On Ropes After Stamps Triumph

BY CAM MCKENZIE
Sports Editor, Saskatoon Star

SASKATOON, March 14—Saskatoon Quakers were left hanging on the ropes after the fourth game of the Western Canada Senior Hockey league's best-of-seven semi-final series against Calgary Stampedes. The Cowboys literally walked all over the Quakers in the fourth game, winning 7-2 within one hour of the final with Edmonton Flyers.

The game, which was the last of the series, was a blowout. The Stampedes scored three goals in the first period and two in the second. The Quakers scored only one goal in the third period.

Calgary leads the series 3-1. The fifth game will be played at Calgary, Thursday.

The champion in-line skaters of the WHL played one of their worst games to date as they absorbed the 7-2 shelling from a club they should beat regularly.

Each game has three goals and two assists for a five-point total, Chuck McCullough and Tommy Beaton of Saskatoon, and Calgary's Johnny Millard are deadlocked for second place with four points apiece.

Calgary leads the semi-final round three games to one.

Calgary's lead is due to the fact that the Stampedes scored three goals in the first period and two in the second. The Quakers scored only one goal in the third period.

They were all there—champions in their own class and group from almost every sport you chose to mention. There was table tennis champion, soap box derby winner, championship baseball clubs—and even the provincial horseshoe champion.

The event was presentation of trophies and learn-to-ski diplomas at the Recreation building last night. About 100 boys, girls, men and women took in the proceedings, and viewed the 1965 world series on the screen.

The British embassy in Prague, however, said the visas have been available at the consulate since Saturday afternoon.

After a short, official ceremony, in which the absence of the Czechs was not mentioned, competition in the 10-day meet got under way here.

In the opening game Britain walked over France 8-0. The heavier and more experienced British squad showed their superiority over the French in a dull contest played before 1,500 onlookers.

MONTREAL, March 14 (CP)—Whether National Hockey League players should strictly to training routine during the long schedule is a matter on which coach Scotty Bowman has a little uncertainty.

REGINAS LAY CLAIM TO BOWLING RECORD
REGINA, March 14 (CP)—Pete Gottlieb, 35, manager of a Regina bowling alley last night claimed the three-game world record for five-pin bowling for the Bill and Fred quintet.

That was an old Regina bander, "reminds the writer," and in the fall-off days of the hilarious Americans and the Rangers of the Cook-Boucher era they often selected Montreal as a good spot in which to indulge their fancies.

Goat says Baz, few coaches to-day are so far from diversions. "They don't want their players to smoke, or even become coffee addicts. Every one knows how Dick Irvin regards such capers. Jack Adams throws on any diversion from the normal routine. So does Hay Day."

Goat says another theory of Lester's is that "the boys born before the tracks make the best hockey players."

"It may be that way now," comments Baz, "but Lester always twisted a silver spoon when he sat down to his steak and onions in his early days. So did most of the old Victorians, and players from the old Winnipeg team were always winning or contending for the Stanley Cup."

Switch Night
Canadian Athletic Club will hold its annual father-and-son night on March 20 instead of March 17 as previously announced. The night staged for bantam teams known as the Herby Webers, Kallaks, Cal's and Ritchie, will be held at the Canadian club house at 100 street and 111 avenue.

Cloverdale Lose

Next Boxing Card On Tap In April
Boxing promoter Jack Berry is planning his next card for early April. At that time he hopes to bring in a top-flight American welterweight fight.

Among the prospects for the Marotti bout are Hal Holloway of Tulsa, Washington, and Rudy Zadel from Baberton, Ohio. Holloway is a 145-pounder who defeated Calgary's Ernie Kemick in Courtland last week, while Zadel is an experienced battler who has faced such ranking welters as ex-champion Sammy Angott and "Babyface" Jones.

Possible opponents for Marotti later in the year are Jimmy Nolan, Bob Montgomery, Beau Jack and Johnny Greco.

Berry is also interested in bringing Eddie Cotton, a lightly-built youngster from Seattle, to Edmonton for an early showing. He has beaten such scrappers as Billy Corbett, Roy Wouters, Frankie Gimbel and Eddie Halligan.

The actor has done a dozen pictures recently and all but two have been on crime themes. Sometimes he's the robber and sometimes he's the cop, as in his present film "Frown Car."

"The public seems to want that kind of picture, so I don't mind," he told me, "but I think I could use a change of pace."

O'Brien can't figure out why he got typed in the role. But he said that he hasn't done much with his relations with the law. But he tells of being stopped for a traffic ticket on his way to work one day.

"I let you go if you'll tell me how you did those flying scenes in 'Frown Car,'" said the cop mentioning one of O'Brien's nose-piercing pictures.

Little White Button To Be Gloom Chaser

By Virginia MacPherson
Exclusive to the Bulletin

HOLLYWOOD, March 14—(BUP)—Producer Sid Rogoff launched a "campaign button drive" today to cheer up the Hollywood crape-hangers who're worried about the box-office slump.

He's passing out little white buttons for movie-moguls and theatre exhibitors to stick in their lapels. They read "I am a booster." That's all they're supposed to make people ask about. "You, And that's where Rogoff's "sunshine" theory comes in.

"It's psychology," he said. "A little gimmick that's swung thousands of political campaigns—the little white button. The minute anybody asks what you're for, our industry leaders can launch into some good sales talks about movies. I'll cheer people up."

Including Rogoff, hopes, the movie moguls.

He's a little peeved at all the negative talk that's floating around Hollywood these days.

SUNSHINE NEEDED

"I guess I'll have to re-sell motion pictures to everybody," he said. "Including the boys at the top. They all ought to get together and sponsor a little sunshine and good will."

Movie bosses may handle millions every day, Rogoff added, but they are out-on-sunshine anybody when it comes to howling the blues.

"Only a fool could have expected the box-office income to stay at its record peak of the war years," he said. "And yet, when it started to get back to normal again, the Hollywood moguls were already starting to wake and lower the body of movie into the grave."

This said Rogoff, is downright dangerous.

"This kind of talk can be passed on and on until it has everyone in the dumps—including the customer. And then business will be bad."

Chevrier Opposes Delaying Rail Boost

Suggests Cabinet Reject Appeal Against Increase Given Railways

OTTAWA, March 14—(CP)—With a group of provincial governments getting ready to appeal to cabinet against the latest freight-rate increase, Transport Minister Chevrier yesterday told the Commons he did not think the cabinet would order the increase postponed.

The minister was answering a question from Hans Agre (CPC)—Antiochia, who wanted to know if the cabinet would order deferring of the 74 per cent hike in the freight rates March 1 and of any further increases that the board of transport commissioners might grant as the result of a railway appeal against the size of that increase for the government.

EFFECTIVE MARCH 23

The March 1 award is due to go into effect March 23. On top of it, the railways have appealed to the board for another 2.4 per cent. They contend that body erred in finding a deficiency in rail revenues and failing to cover it with a 20 per cent boost.

Mr. Agre asked if the government would postpone application of the increase until after the royal commission on transportation had completed its report. He had completed the general freight-rate inquiry it now is conducting for the government.

Cabinet has power to postpone increases granted by the board, but Mr. Agre said he did not think that "the circumstances are such that the power should be exercised at this time."

HERE'S SITUATION

Meanwhile, the freight-rate situation at the moment shaped up this way:

1. The railways have appealed to the transport board for upward revision of their latest increase.

2. The seven provinces actively opposing rate increases will fight that move before the board.

Out Of Work, Commons Told

OTTAWA, March 14—(CP)—Angus MacIntyre (CPC, Vancouver, B.C. East) told Commons Monday unemployment in B.C. had reached proportions of a major emergency. He said 15.8 per cent of the province's labor force is unemployed. The people were concerned about the uncertainty of government action.

He urged the government to get back to the table and proposed the 1945 white paper. In that paper the government offered to undertake public works projects in periods of unemployment.

The people were worried. The cost of living was rising up, unemployment was increasing and the government was throwing over the social security program on which it had won two elections.

He felt it was time to make a searching study of Canada's economy. So-called free enterprise capitalism, high unemployment and mass unemployment.

Suspect Held In Murder

WINNIPEG, March 14—(CP)—Police Chief Charles Maciver said yesterday a charge of murder "will probably" be laid against Walter Stoney in the stabbing death of his widowed paramour.

Stoney was found critically injured Sunday alongside a railway track a few hours after Mrs. Marthe Perreault, 30-year-old mother of six, died in his hotel room. Her body, pierced 18 times, presumably by a long ice pick found in the room in this field during the past year.

Stoney, 38, is under police guard in hospital. His condition today was "slightly improved" but still serious.

Chief Constable Maciver said a note believed to be in Stoney's writing, was found in the room. "Because Stoney will probably be charged with murder if he lives," he said, "the contents of the note cannot be divulged."

He said the note dispelled any theories of attempted suicide in Stoney's accident at the railway crossing. He was likely trying to board a passing train, and fell, the chief said.

Bad News By Post

My horoscope contained no hint that March 13 would bring bad news but here's a note I received yesterday: Mr. Jack DeLong, Trip Writer, Edmonton Bulletin.

Dr. M. DeLong: I note that you wish a special good evening to people from Mars who are smart enough not to live on this earth.

What's wrong with this earth? If you know a better earth I wish you would go live on it and take your trip with you. The only thing wrong with this earth is that too many people are on it that should be in it, not mentioning any names.

In other words there isn't enough earth on earth. People I know should be dumps in it and not clumps on it.

And how do you know the people on Mars are little? I suppose Elsie told you they were. Well she didn't tell you, because I happen to be Elsie's boy friend and she has never been on Mars. I am sorry to say she hasn't even been on Venus or close to it.

A goodnight to all and especially to pieces of earth that are honest enough to admit they should be Venus.

ELEGANT ELSIE'S BOY FRIEND.

Comment: I am surprised that Elegant Elsie's boy friend says Elsie has never been to Venus because the first time I lay eyes on her I think she looks like Venus.

Rodents Beware

There was another letter in yesterday's mail from an Alma Diebolt, who runs a shopping service out in Vancouver.

Alma says that printer Walter Kerr might be interested in knowing there is a Pied Piper in Vancouver with a Norwegian rat poison guaranteed to rid any community of rats or mice without harming dogs or other animals.

The poison is known in Norway as Battusan. Alma says she's going to bring some samples with her to Edmonton soon and also a dog shampoo that rids dogs of fleas and gives their coats a lovely gloss.

Also cashed in on a chain letter for the first time. It had one great big dime in it. If I were to mail off four copies, as directed I'd lose six cents.

Forgotten Man of Oil

Almost the forgotten man in the Alberta oil picture is Edmonton's veteran lawyer, I. B. Howatt.

Mr. Howatt is president of a company that has had a lot of luck and it's all been bad. For the last 12 years Howatt's company has been trying to tap an oil field in the Ram River district, 60 miles west of Innisfail.

Geologists say there's lots of oil there but drilling difficulties, gas pressure troubles and financial problems have beset the company since 1938.

President Howatt says the Ram field will never get his oil and he'll still bring out the oil.

That's the spirit.

An understanding goodnight to all and especially to people who have dogs that have to flee from fleas.

RUSH OF WORK

Nine Retired Employees Back to Help Out City

Aldermen last night were given names of nine retired city employees who, under postwar shortage of staff pressures, have been re-engaged for special work.

"This practice is not a popular one, and we should take steps to see that it doesn't exist indefinitely," said Ald. Dick Hanna. "I know these people earn their money, and I understand the need, because these are extraordinary times."

Mayor Sid Purson suggested the city should employ a "personnel man" to look after classification, working conditions and union agreements and negotiations.

Zoot Suiters Claim Knives Are Just to Cut, Not to Stab

By Barney McKinley

Brooklyn's notorious boy gangsters, the "Amboy Dukes," had nothing on some of today's teen-age gangs in Edmonton.

That's the candid opinion of five wise-cracking "zoot suited" school kids between the ages of 15 and 18 who took time out from playing the juke box to give the lowdown on the loot scene.

The boys gave their names as Capahan, Schmaltz-Baby, Turtle and Moore—but that was the only humorous note in the interview.

The lone girl in the group, a very pretty 15-year-old, was not introduced.

All five were dressed in what would be called a conservative zoot suit. The boys had on long jackets reaching to six inches above the knee. One jacket was baby blue and the others maroon. Pants were royal blue or black with 28 inch line and 14 inch cuffs.

Nobody was wearing a beanie. TALK BIG, ACT SMALL.

The girl wore the same kind of trousers, but instead of a civilian coat she wore an army jacket with the corporal's stripes still up. This was the last of the group, who were the saddle shoes.

They handed each other a lot of laughs explaining how dumb the "cops" were and what a bunch of "piss" went to the "teen danks."

Both of them admitted to three or four appearances in court and said they were out on suspended sentence.

Sure they carried spring knives, they said calmly.

"Along with about 500 other guys in this town" they estimated callously. "But those cops are so dumb they couldn't find one if they went looking."

LIKE JOY RIDING

The knives, and also the homemade blackjacks, lead pipes and brass knuckles were not just for show, they insisted.

"There's guys get cut with them every week," they asserted. "Only they don't go running for doctors or cops."

"After all the idea is to cut, not stab with them things," Capahan pointed out. "You're not supposed to kill anybody."

The two who said that stealing cars for joy riding was even more fun than gang warfare.

"Five stolen 31's last May," Schmaltz-Baby announced. "You can get started if you use steel wool."

"We don't steal them to sell," he hastened to explain. "But there's a place here in town where you can get rid of them and get enough."

"You want to hear how we get liquor?" one of the group volunteered.

"WHAT ELSE TO DO?"

At the last minute the gang got edgy and decided not to disclose to explain that the pair weren't typical of Edmonton's teen-agers.

"There's not more than 100 like these two in the whole city," they stated.

But even at that they didn't argue much about Capahan's parting shot.

"What is there to do in this town?" he had asked. "All you can find to do is get stuck, get in a fight or steal cars."

Retirement of veteran Shogun Plains official Earl Parshaw was announced at last night's West Jasper Place council meeting.

He was welfare officer in the community and a Shogun Plains municipal policeman for the district before it became a village.

Policing of the village has been taken over by newly-appointed Lawrence Kenney, former chief constable at Bernhead.

Mayor J. M. Stone said that council has not yet considered appointment of a new welfare officer.

MELON AID TO SICK BOY

A "miraculous" return to health of Edmonton's nephrothritic sufferer, Eddie Gonsky, was described by his father, Mike Gonsky, 1235-87 street.

Gonsky attributed his six-year-old son's return to health to the watermelon diet the boy has been using during the past three weeks.

He said the boy had suddenly lost eight pounds "over the weekend" after eating a "extra large amount" of the melon.

The boy continues to use watermelon supplied by the Red Cross and air expressed from Cuba. He has eaten 125 pounds of melon since the treatment started.

Incinerator At Hospital

Progress toward solution of the Cansell hospital garbage disposal problem was reported by city council, Monday night by Mayor Sid Purson.

He read a letter from Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, reporting that a hospital official had said the new boiler room will be completed this month, and construction of the new incinerator will be carried out within the next six weeks.

"Hospital dressings have been gathered by our sanitary men, and last summer we arranged that these be taken to the city incinerator, rather than to city dumps," said Dr. Little.

"One cannot say there is no possibility of transferring infection by way of these dressings, but I would say this possibility is quite remote," he added.

Business Licences

Village council of West Jasper Place will hold a special meeting Saturday to deal with business licence applications for 1950, it was announced at last night's council meeting.

Councillors emphasized the Saturday special was not a public meeting, but said village officials would be open all day to consider licence applications.

MINIMUM CONSIDERED

It is understood that officials will press upon him the desirability of including in his proposal for a 75 per cent net revenue from the scheme, provision of a minimum guarantee to the city annually.

Figures ranging from $100,000 to $250,000 have been suggested.

As presented at the council's previous regular meeting two weeks ago, Mr. Detwiler proposed only

Aldermen Ask Change In Charter

Another Step Undertaken In Detwiler Negotiations

City council last night—with one opposing voice—approved suggested charter amendment which would enable the city to negotiate for the Detwiler scheme of a $25 million downtown centre.

The suggested amendment would pave way for the city to enter into agreement with L. E. Detwiler and First New American Corporation of New York for a 99-year tax-concession lease on the area between 100A and 104 avenues, from 90 to 100 streets.

Opposing voice was that of Ald. Fred Mitchell, who renewed his attack on the suggested charter amendment as being "tied in with a certain proposal to undermine the whole tax structure."

Commissioners have carried out council's instruction to confer with Premier E. C. Manning on the proposal for a lease on such terms, the mayor reported.

"We gave him and the municipal affairs minister all the information we had, and they now have the matter under advisement," he said.

Mr. Detwiler is expected back in Edmonton Wednesday for further discussion.

Burlap Costumes Answer Problem For Classic Play

Vanity designers are discovering potentiality of burlap, commonly known as hessian, in creating costumes for University Studio Theatre production of "Antigone".

"Antigone" is a Greek classical tragedy. Lowly burlap, draped and painted, is closest thing to wall paintings and designs which are the inspiration for the costumes of that era. Rich silks, woolsens and rayons are being combined with the burlap.

Hessian is one of the most inexpensive materials on the market and when washed and sewn can produce a variety of styles and effects.

"Antigone" is being presented by Drama Division of Department of Fine Arts, University of Alberta. Performances will take place in Studio Theatre on University campus March 16 and 18 at 8:30 p.m. There will be a matinee March 18, 2:30.

Alberta Rail Plan Seen As Big Help

But CPR Witness Suggests It More Local Than National Help

OTTAWA, March 14.—(CP)—The burden of freight rates does not lie with particular weight on any single section of the country, the Royal Commission on Transportation was told yesterday.

Prof. J. Lorne McDougall, an economist testifying for Canadian Pacific Railway, said he agreed with a C.P.R. submission that the incidence of freight rates falls on the national economy as a whole and it could not be stated that any area or group was more burdened than any other.

OPPOSED TO SUBSIDIES

The railway's submission, made earlier in its main brief to the commission, was its reply to claims from various sections—chiefly the west and the maritimes—that freight rates hit them harder than central Canada.

Testifying on the question of whether or not there should be subsidies to assist parts of the country in regard to transportation, Prof. McDougall backed up the C.P.R.'s contention that there should be no transportation subsidies as such.

If subsidies were needed in some areas—as has been contended before the commission—they should be distributed to those in the affected areas rather than paid to the railways, Prof. McDougall said.

He also said the distribution of such subsidies, even though voted by parliament, should be left in the hands of provincial or municipal authorities—a point of view that drew some questioning from commission members.

Commissioned H. F. Angus, an economist at the University of British Columbia, expressed the view that, politically, it would be easier to defend transportation subsidies than a regional industrial subsidy.

Prof. McDougall also took issue with theories put forward by two of the western provinces for rate-making. These were:

1. British Columbia's idea that the railways should set rates more in line with the "cost of service" principle than they do now—that is, the movement of particular traffic should be more closely related to the cost of moving that traffic.

2. Alberta's suggestion that rates should be established in such a way as not to discourage processing of goods, such as livestock in Alberta, close to the area of primary production.

Of the British Columbia proposal, the economist said it had been discussed and discarded in Britain as early as a century ago. Of Alberta's proposal, Prof. McDougall said it was problematical—though uncertain—that a rate structure based on the principal might encourage production for a time in that province. But he added that rates must be set on a national, rather than a regional, basis.

May Revise Tax Set-Up

The Dominion government may be asked to pay more after 1962 for its exclusive right to draw income and corporation taxes and succession duties from Alberta.

Initiation of this was given in Alberta legislature yesterday by Premier E. C. Manning.

At present, under an agreement signed in 1947 by Dominion and provincial authorities, the dominion has use of Alberta's fields of income and corporation taxes and succession duties, for which it makes a cash settlement. Last year it was about $15,000,000.

Speaking in the budget debate yesterday Premier Manning questioned the claim of Liberal Leader J. Harper Prowse that the $15,000,000 was a "gift" from the Dominion government to provincial revenues. He said the provincial government will give serious consideration to the tax transfer agreement when it expires in 1962.

More than $1,000,000 of Alberta's $77,000,000 estimated budget for 1959-60 received the approval of the committee of the whole.

The House voted $68,775 for the

MORE ALBERTA FUEL IS URGED ON C.N.R.

OTTAWA, March 14.—(CP)—Greater use of Canadian oil and coal by the CNR was suggested in Commons by J. H. Harrison (L-Meadow Lake) as a means of saving U.S. dollars and assisting Canadian industry.

Some action should be taken to see that more Canadian coal is used, possibly exclusively, "even though it meant the payment of additional subsidies."

"If more of our coal and oil were used," he said, "it would mean the saving of U.S. dollars and our own industries would be helped."

He noted that the CNR was converting 200 locomotives to oil in Alberta area. That was a step in the right direction. The Lloydminster oil field would benefit.

Canada Willing to Surrender Power to World Government

By Clyde Blackburn

OTTAWA, March 14.—(CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson foresees greater international responsibilities for Canada in the second half of the century.

This will involve some sacrifice of sovereignty to help achieve world security and harmony, he said.

But if such acceptance of responsibilities and surrender of sovereignty contribute to real international unity, "they will increase the measure of our freedom rather than limit it."

Mr. Pearson dictated guarded replies to a number of questions by The Canadian Press seeking his views on Canada's international role in the second half of the 20th century.

The questions and his replies: Where can Canada reasonably hope to find herself as an international entity at the end of the century?

Canada's position as a free, united and independent state amongst the community of nations has been firmly established and is everywhere recognized.

In the process of reaching maturity as a nation and as its strength and stature increased, Canada has been obliged to accept increasing responsibilities in international affairs.

MUST SHARE LOAD
The North American continent has assumed a position of leadership in the world and, whether we like it or not, Canadians must share the burden of this leadership; always, of course, within the measure of our capacities.

If international security is to be achieved through universal co-operation, Canada, with other countries, will be called upon to participate in the operations of the machinery of international government as it is gradually developed.

What sacrifice of sovereignty seems most likely to become essential in the next 50 years? The liberty of the individual in his own community depends upon the willingness of every citizen to accept limitations upon his freedom of action in the common interest and for his own protection.

Our freedom as a nation would be strengthened and fulfilled by a similar development.

NO SUDDEN CHANGE
Any international agreement which increases the ability of our people, in company with the people of other nations, to live in peace and freedom will be welcome.

In this way we may expect to build up an international community in which the national sovereignties are limited on their own sovereignty. We need not expect, however, that this process will be sudden or dramatic.

Is it possible for a country so large and sparsely settled to grow into an independent, self-sufficient power along side and so closely allied with the United States?

Canada's growing self-reliance and self-sufficiency have not been hindered by the fact that she has 40 neighbors the world's strongest power.

Our ability to withstand the force of gravity drawing us toward our great neighbor has been increased, as we have ourselves grown in strength and unity.

Will Canada's future improve?

Speaks Tonight

Member for Athabasca, who speaks over CPBN tonight at 9:15 o'clock in the regular Tuesday night series of "Report From Parliament House."

countries, it is less likely that we shall be led into undertakings that are too great for our resources.

It is, of course, of the greatest importance that the Canadian people as a whole should realize the extent to which, in a dangerous world, our responsibilities are increasing, and the greater burden which we must therefore accept in the development of a system of security by which we in company with our friends will be able to protect ourselves.

'Doll' In Pond Was Dead Son
HAMILTON TOWNSHIP, N.J., March 14.—(AP)—Thomas Bradshaw saw three boys poking sticks at what they thought was a doll in a three-foot pool of water.

A pair of red rubber boots could be seen just below the surface of the water. A small body dressed in a blue snow suit bobbed about the bottom of the pool.

Bradshaw dashed into the pool and carried out the body. It was his two-year-old son, Thomas Jr.

The Canadian Family owes much to . . . Ukraine

A Tribute from Calvert to Canadians of Ukrainian Descent

CANADA OWES much of its strength, vitality and the rich quality of its democracy to the blending of racial and cultural heritages from many lands.

No one appreciates more the true significance of the words freedom and democracy than those who have suffered oppression.

Although Ukrainians have felt the heel of the oppressor for six hundred years they have never lost their love of freedom. The first Ukrainians came to Canada in 1892 and were followed by a steady stream of these hardy and resourceful people until today there are over 500,000 in Canada.

Comprising Ruthenians and Galicians, they are enthusiastic choristers and embroidery experts. The younger generation is producing writers, doctors, lawyers, teachers and legislators contributing much to the progress of the great Canadian Family.
